PUTTING THE FUN IN FUNDRAISER

Nine organizations showed up to the fundraiser lottery last Wednesday in room 223. The lottery is run jointly by SAC and StuCo. Since Brooke Woodsom and Liv Jusfredo run both organizations, they also ran the lottery. Each of the organizations picked a number in turn and selected a fundraiser.

Organizations which that have held fundraisers in the past can opt to do them again but the date still must be picked in the lottery. For example, StuCo started homecoming and "owns" it if they want to keep it, but they need a date. The order of picks was

1. SAC
2. NHS
3. Freshmen
4. Stuco
5. Seniors
6. Yearbook
7. Interact
8. Juniors
9. and

Student Advisory Council chairperson Brooke Woodsom writes chosen Fundraisers by month on Mrs. Johnston's white board.

Sophomores. The process goes back and forth until every group has picked all of their desired events. A few events such as Senior Carnations are automatically reserved for the sophomores so every class has a chance at that once. Seniors automatically have Powderpuff football. So called "Reserved" fundraisers have to be picked first. Organizations can still schedule fundraisers, but they cannot conflict with events scheduled in the lottery.

In October the Student Advisory Council brings back its Halloween Bash for little kids. The National Honor Society is currently selling raffle tickets for two restaurant gift baskets. Tickets are $10 each for a chance to win

MAKING MORE MONEY

1 of 2 baskets of gift cards. Each basket has approximately $800 in gift cards. The money will be used to create boxes of essentials for the unhoused in the Greater Merrimack Valley area. The drawing will be November 12th.

Student Council President Liv Jusfredo writes down the fundraisers by organization.

In November, the Senior Class will be selling Pointsettia plants to get ready for Christmas. The seniors will also be scheduling Powderpuff Football on November 19th.

December starts off with the Homecoming Dance on December 4th. Sophomores will be selling candy grams during the month. The freshman are teaming up with Drama Club for "Dinner and a Show" on the opening night of the winter play, December 11th. The freshmen are aiming to keep little kids entertained with a Winter Wonderland on December 6th.

In January, the freshmen have an AMS movie night scheduled on the 8th. Yearbook is holding the Ice Cream Social on January 11th. STUCO is trying to bring back the Lip Sync on the 24th. This used to be a hysterically funny event at AHS but was very hard to get people to do it. Let's show some spirit this year. On the 19th, you Can build a Buddy with the Junior Class, which is designed for little kids. Get some comfort food from the seniors on the 22nd.

In February, you won't go hungry. On the 2nd, you can get Italian Food from the Sophomores and on the third you can get Mac and Cheese from the Seniors. Interact will be selling hot chocolate in the 11th. Meanwhile the Sophomores will try to pull off a Valentines Dance on the 12th.

Mr. AHS returns in March, sponsored by the seniors.

Pie Night, sponsored by the juniors, is on the 11th. STUCO is running a calendar raffle this month and the juniors with reprise their highly successful family Fun Fair on March 20th. The sophomores will be selling candy bars and the sophomores will run another fun event for little kids, "Once upon a time." on the 13th. The little kids keep getting treated on the 27th with the seniors last Bunny Bash.

In April, the freshmen will run another movie night for the middle school. They will also run another Dinner and a Show before the spring play on the 9th and a game night on the 30th.

At the end of April and extending through May, the classes will start sales of items for graduation. The sophomores, of course, have carnations. Juniors will sell lawn signs, and the freshman will sell USB drives of senior events.

On May 4th, you can get some energy for all these things with the tradition Taco Tuesday, sponsored by the freshman.

DO MORE ACTIVITIES!!

Students Activity Fair

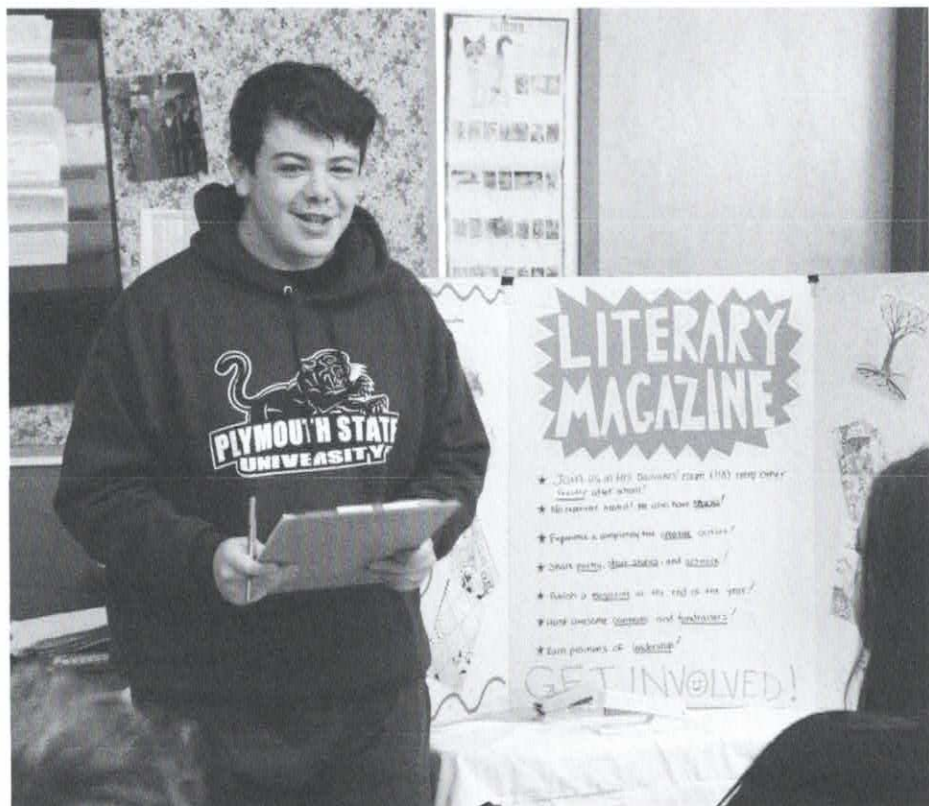

Students were able to select three rooms they wished to attend in advance of the fair through an online questionnaire. In each room, upper classmen provided a brief overview of the various sports and clubs offered within the specific category. Presenters have been actively involved in the activities they represent allowing them to give first-hand accounts of what the activity is all about. In the sports rooms, presenters focused on why students should join, what they can expect for practice schedules and when games are held. In the non-sports rooms, presenters explained the focus of each club, why a student might be interested in participating, and the major events/projects it supported.

Over 150 students participated in this year's Student Activity Fair and initial feedback was positive. Participants asked good questions and appeared to be genuinely engaged. AHS recognizes the importance of encouraging students to be involved to maximize their high school experience. The Student Activity Fair allows students to learn about what is available, how the options will work with their schedules, and how they may be able to contribute.

Yearbook Photo Day

The yearbook held its annual Photo Day last Friday all day in the double room on the first floor. The purpose of photo day is to take as many pictures as possible in a variety of categories such as Senior Superlatives, Class Polls, Seniors and Siblings, Fashion, Parents When to AHS, and so forth. There were eight stations and twelve categories of photos. Seniors (mostly) were scheduled for various categories based on their senior packet answers or assigned if they didn't turn in the packet. The ultimate goal is to get every senior in the yearbook several times, whether they do school activities or not. Hundreds of photos were taken by eight photographers, Brooks Lindsey, Charlie Himmel, Everet Himmel, Jess Silva, Eliza Froncki, Jackson Haynes, Ava Tuneburg, and Abby LaMott.

The day was directed by Photo Coordinator Ryan Houlihan, assisted by the yearbook Editors In Chief Faith Mainville, Josiah Fugate, and Dom Beane. Every yearbook staff member, however, was involved in some job.

"This went amazingly smoothly," said yearbook advisor Barbara Leary. "The yearbook staff did a great job."

Redhawk Book Talk

Mr. Horst
Science Teacher

Book Title: Project Hail Mary
Author: Andy Weir

Book summary:

Astrophage is eating the sun and putting planet Earth at risk. With no solutions and a timeline for humanity's survival, a possible answer is found in the Tau Ceti system. The problem, it is 12 light years away.

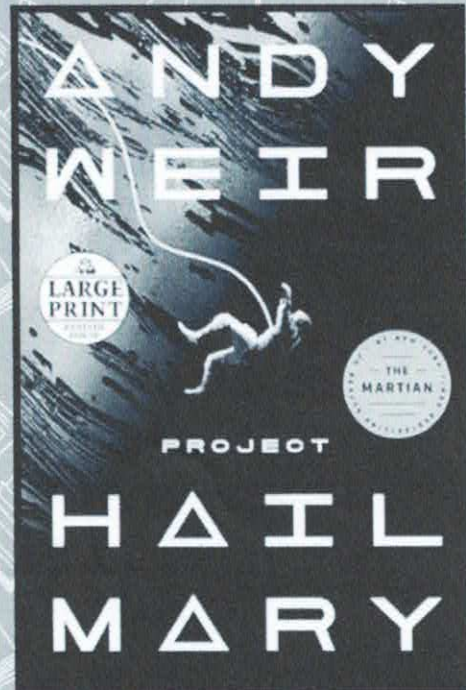

Humanity has one chance to solve the problem, one mission to Tau Ceti to save the species, but can Dr. Ryland Grace and his team solve the mystery to Astrophage before it is too late?

Reason for Recommending:

This book is a phenomenal story that has so many gripping twists and turns, leaving you on the edge of your seat after every chapter. Andy Weir is spot on with much of the science, and tells a realistic tale of what would happen in a new star system.

Not only is it a great book, it is being made into a movie releasing March 20th which I am very excited for as well!

CARTER KEHOE

Senior Profile

By Dom Beane

Carter's favorite classes are any that he has with his friends. He has really enjoyed senior year so far and he has many great memories with his friends throughout high school. His favorite teacher is Mr. Black because he is always nice and fun to talk with. He really appreciates Matt Way for always being nice.

Outside of school, Carter loves to go skiing, fishing, and hiking, especially feeding the New England Gray Jays that live in mountain tops. He also loves to workout and spends a lot of his free time at the gym. One of his greatest accomplishments has been his investments. Carter would describe himself as silly but only sometimes because he has to be in the right mood.

If Carter met a genie, he would wish for one million dollars, the ability to go back in time, and the ability to see the future. If he could choose any other super power he would want to be able to control the wind.

When he was younger, he wanted to be a professional race car driver, and it turns out that he is a pretty good driver today. The best advice Carter has ever been given is never to let anyone tell you anything about how to live your life. If he could change anything about his four years of high school, he would want to party more. Going forward, he is going to live by the motto, "cut your losses short." The words he wants the class of 2027 to hear are "Jump a few fences, get the cops called on you once or twice, but don't get arrested."

LOGAN JUDD

Senior Profile

By Dom
Beane

Logan's favorite part about high school has been spending time with his friends. That is why he loves Friday night Football games, and why his favorite part of the day is WIN when he can hang out. He is especially appreciative of his friend Matt Way who is always around and always down for a conversation.

Even though Logan regrets some of the people that he's talked to in the past and cringes at the time he had pink hair, he still has some great memories. His favorite things to do outside of school are going to the beach and driving around with friends. He tries to always be supportive and make people feel better. His hero is his mom who has the same values and helps him through any of his problems. Logan's favorite teacher is Mr. Black who is always chill.

The best advice he has ever been given is to never cheat, steal, or lie. His advice to younger kids would be to never lie for attention, and to the seniors he would say never act based on the thoughts of others, and do what is right for you.

When Logan was younger he wanted to be a clown, but now he just wants to be six foot two inches. If he could meet anyone, he would wish to meet the Wolf of Wall Street, Jordan Belford. He loves to play Clash and Siege and when he was a kid, he loved Trouble. His favorite artist is A Boogie, specifically his favorite song, D.T.B..

After high school, Logan wants to make sure that he keeps up with all his friends and keeps enjoying himself.

KEEP ON TRYING

Field Hockey

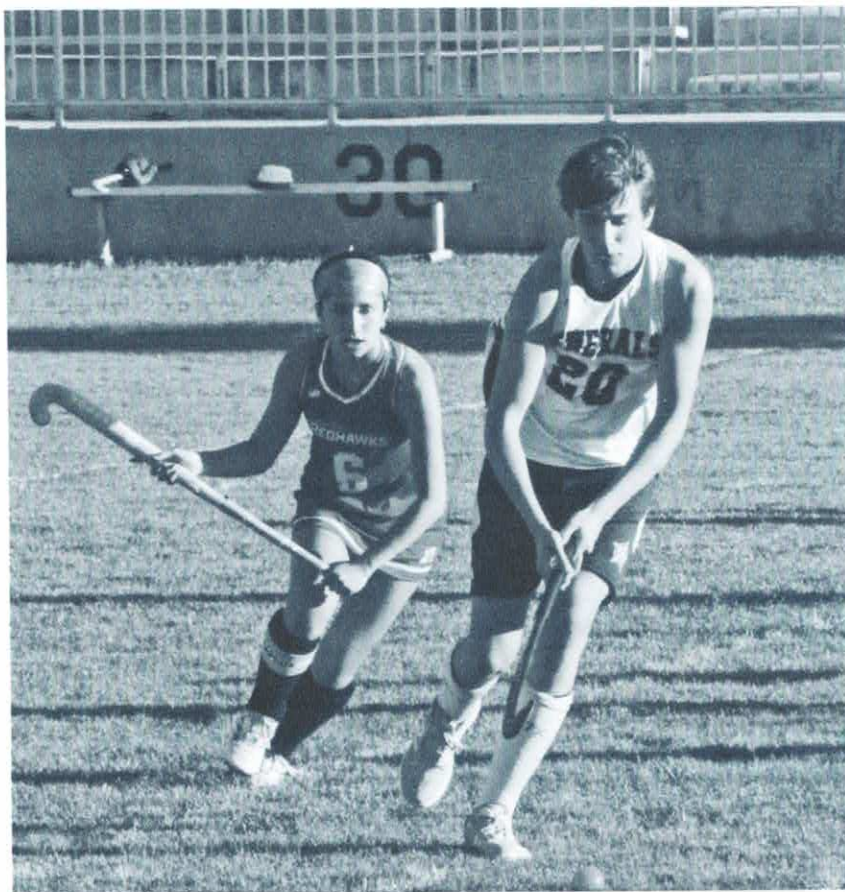

Anna Shoukimas controls the ball.

Addy Cooper goes for the ball.

Despite three recent losses, the field hockey team, under new Coach Bethany Noseworthy, is improving. Noseworthy, who works at the Amesbury Inovation High School, was the Amesbury coach for many years before passing the torch. In their last three outings, the team lost to Ipswich 0-4, Hamilton-Wenhan 2-3, and Manchester Essex 0-3. The two goals in the Hamilton-Wenham game were scored by Hope Shanahan, and Ailyn Jurta.

The team is scheduled to play Malden High School tonight in Malden.

Field hockey is technically a co-ed sport since there are not comparable girls and boys teams. Sofia Le is not intimidated by a 6 ft Generals player.

REDHAWKES EAT HORNETS

Football

The pink costumes of the Amesbury cheering section, and good hot dogs, were probably the most interesting things about the football game vs Manchester Essex at Manchester last Friday night.

The winless Hornets gave it all they had in this trouncing but were just outclassed. Manchester got the ball first and quickly found out that they could not run against the Redhawks. Turning to the passing game, they were intercepted by Jayden Davis, who is turning into quite the pass defender. Joe Puleo scored the first Amesbury TD less than 3 minutes into the game and Connor Scialdone added the two points. What followed were TD's by CJ Rivera, another by Puleo and another by Scialdone. It was 40-0 at the half.

Amesbury was playing tough, but they were also helped by serious Manchester errors.

In the second half, with a running clock, few starting numbers were seen on the field except for special teams. Manchester managed to score on a long pass play and Amesbury's David Chirwa added one more for the RedHawks, although the PAT failed. Chirwa actually ended up with the most rushing yards for Amesbury, with 55. The JV's got a workout since they beat Triton at home the next morning.

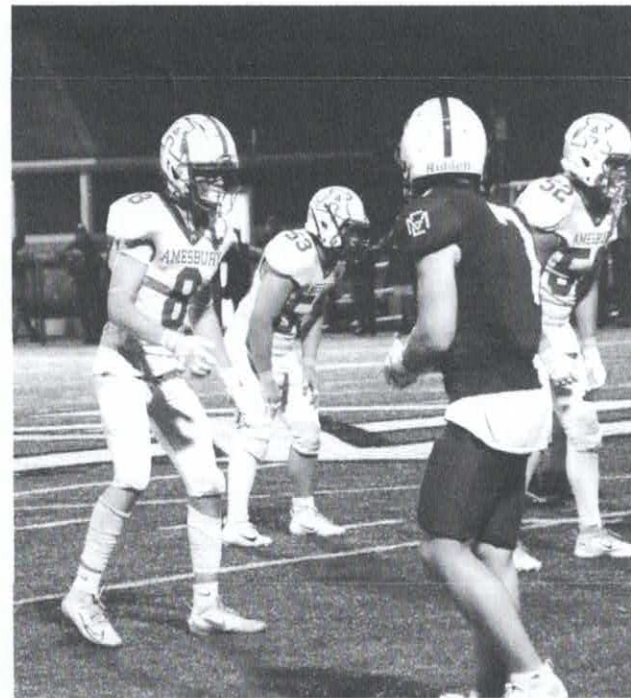

The Redhawk's get the night off tonight. You can go see the boys's soccer team at 4PM at Landry vs Ipswich.

HOROSCOPE

ARIES

LIFE: The teacher says this is a short test. At the end of the period you have done 2 of 10 questions.

SCHOOL/WORK: Someone will say, "This should only take five minutes." They are lying. It will take 47 minutes, three emails, and a meeting that could have been an email.

TAURUS

LIFE: A freshman will stare at you for an uncomfortable amount of time. You decide to stare back.

SCHOOL/WORK: You will actually finish something early. Enjoy the feeling for approximately six seconds before someone gives you something else to do.

GEMINI

LIFE: You will tell a story that should take 30 seconds. Nine minutes later, you will still be explaining who Kevin is and why the turkey was in the parking lot.

SCHOOL/WORK: Your computer will ask you to update at the exact moment you need it most. Don't do it. NEVER do it.

CANCER

LIFE: You are home alone. You will open the refrigerator four times hoping new food has magically appeared. On the 5th try there really is new food. Suddenly your hunger turns to terror.

SCHOOL/WORK: Someone will borrow your pencil and actually return it. The shock will send you to the nurse.

LEO

LIFE: Leary puts you on the cover of every issue of the newspaper. The funny thing is she didn't even realize she was doing that.

SCHOOL/WORK: You will answer a really difficult question. The teacher sends a note to guidance suggesting you transfer to AP. Never answer a question again.,

VIRGO

LIFE: On the way up the high school driveway two deer run in front of your car. One keeps running but the other stops and stares at you for a full minute. It knows something.

SCHOOL/WORK: Your carefully planned day will be destroyed before 9:07 am. However, you will not know that because every clock in the school is wrong.

LIBRA

LIFE: You will spend 20 minutes deciding what to eat. By that time both your top choices are sold out.

SCHOOL/WORK: You will be asked to choose between two equally terrible options. You go to the nurse.

SCORPIO

LIFE: Someone will say, "I have something to tell you." Then they will disappear for two hours. You will mentally construct 37 possible explanations, including alien abduction. Actually the message is practice time has been changed.

SCHOOL/WORK: You will receive a note saying, "Can we talk?" Does this person have a crush on you? No, they need you to explain yesterday's notes.

SAGITTARIUS

LIFE: You will announce that you are "going to Dunks for donuts." Somehow you will return three hours later with French fries.

SCHOOL/WORK: You will begin one assignment, remember another assignment, start that one, check something online, and somehow end up watching a video about a raccoon stealing a pizza.

CAPRICORN

LIFE: The StuCo and SAC kids keep trying you get you to join school organizations. They say you'll have more fun at school. You'd rather be miserable at school.

SCHOOL/WORK: Everyone will suddenly decide that you are the responsible one. This is unfortunate. Hide.

AQUARIUS

LIFE: You decide to join the Interact Club so you have something on your transcript. You have no idea what that is but you interact with people pretty well.

SCHOOL/WORK: You will suggest an unusual solution. Everyone will laugh. Two days later, someone else will suggest the exact same thing and everyone will call it brilliant.

PISCES

LIFE: You get asked if you want the newspaper. You say you don't a quarter. It's been free for almost a year. Where have you been?

SCHOOL/WORK: You stayed up until midnight doing the assignment. Your teacher is absent. The class assignment is to finish last night's assignment.
