WHERE HAVE ALL THE FOOTBALL TEAMS GONE?

Football is the life's blood of spirit at AHS. The cheering section even has a name and leader, but that does no good if the team can't find others to play.

Did you miss going to a football game last Friday night? Or think it was strange that Amesbury was playing Portsmouth, NH, two weeks ago? There are just not enough teams to play in the CAL Baker Division, and teams in the Kinney division do not have to play those in the Baker.

Currently, there are only four teams in the Baker Division: Amesbury, Manchester Essex, Hamilton-Wenham, and Triton. Ipswich has suspended its program for at least two years due to lack of students signing up to play. Reportedly, the Tigers had 23 kids signed up to play. There is no mandated number of players a team must have, other than 11 on the field, in Massachusetts, but 25 is considered the absolute minimum to avoid having to play both ways and increasing the chance of injury. Instead, the Ipswich administration made a deal to create a combined team for two years with Triton. Word on the street is that many people in Ipswich were not happy with this decision and want their team back. Ipswich has approximately the same number of students in grades 9-12 as Amesbury.

Meanwhile, Georgetown, which has only 230 kids in grades 9-12, has not played a separate football team since 2022. Their football players compete with Hamilton-Wenham. Rockport, the smallest CAL school, has combined with Manchester-Essex for so long we are not sure if they ever had a separate team.

Amesbury is the only school in the Baker Division to include students from only one high school. Despite having a 3-1 record, one has to ask how fair that is. Essentially, every week Amesbury has to play a much bigger school or has to play two schools under one name. That might not matter much for tiny Rockport playing for Manchester-Essex, but Ipswich has a student population almost identical to Amesbury. When Amesbury plays Triton later in the season, they are really playing Triton/Ipswich.

Currently, Amesbury has 33 kids on their roster and about half of them play both offense and defense. Captains Gino DiLorenzo, Evan Murphy, and Braden Delisle all said they did not mind playing both ways nor actually liked it. DiLorenzo said that you get beat up more playing both ways but it was fine. Delisle pointed out that football is a tough, physical sport that takes up a lot of time, which may be why some kids would rather play soccer or golf.

Is football participation increasing or decreasing nationally? The data produces contradictory results depending on the source and the region you are talking about. The general consensus seems to be that covid hurt participation, but it is on the rebound. Not here, apparently. Many students and parents are concerned about concussions and other injuries. Games have actually been cancelled at some schools because of a lack of healthy players.

We might have expected Amesbury to be playing Essex Tech, but the Kinney Division school chose not to tackle the Redhawks this year. This may be because the state is encouraging tech schools to play other tech schools. It may also be because the Hawks always lose to Amesbury, despite having 2000 kids in their school and being in Division 4. Amesbury is in Division 7.

Tonight, the Redhawks face Kinney Division school North Reading at home.

The Redhawks only loss was to Kinney Division school Lynnfield.

This has become a storied rivalry because the Hornets are bigger, stronger, and have yet to lose to the Redhawks for five consecutive years by a total of 13 points. The typical victory margins have been two points. Tonight may break the spell, but we hope not.

After October 30th, Amesbury will presumably enter the state tournament. There they will be actually playing division 7 teams, although that might not be much of an advantage for Amesbury. The Redhawks are currently ranked number 10, based largely on the lackluster teams they have played so far. Tonight's match up against North Reading will probably be a tougher test than what they have faced so far. Some feel that the Lynnfield game was a fluke since Amesbury had multiple chances to win it and Tommy Mitchell played more than a quarter of the game with a broken arm. Right now the number one seed is Cohasset, who beat Amesbury at Gillette last year in the state finals.

OBSERVER

GET SCARED

If you want to read a scary book for Halloween, the AHS library has you covered. Librarian Victoria Maganzini makes sure to create a display of appropriate reading material for every holiday and Halloween is no exception. You can also get something for nothing. The library is also giving away older books, or ones that have not been checked out for a long time. Check out the bookcase outside the library for books you can just take - free.

DON'T TRUST TOO MUCH

If you figure you can have Chatgpt write your papers, you should take the warning "Chatgpt can be wrong" seriously. There are programs which check AI-created content for things like grammar and sentence structure, but maybe the problem is more obvious - it's wrong. When doing research for our article on football in the CAL (front page), chatgpt told us, among other things, that the Baker division had only two schools and Manchester-Essex wasn't part of the CAL at all! When confronted with these errors, however, at least it apologized.

MAKE-UP DAY

If you didn't like your school photos, the retake day is October 29 at 9 AM in the TV studio. Please bring the photos you want retaken with you. This is also the time when people who never got photos taken can have them done. We know you don't think you need a student ID card, but you never know. Just go to the TV studio when called.

UPCOMING EVENTS

TONIGHT: Football vs North Reading at home. Don't miss this one.

Oct. 21: First Unified Basketball Game - vs Triton 3:30PM

Oct 24: Halloween Bash (for little kids) 10-12 in the cafe

Oct 30: Senior Dress Up Day - Halloween Rally

THOMAS KIRBY

Senior Profile

By Dom Beane

Thomas, or TK, thinks that the most unique thing about him is his ginger hair color. His favorite year of high school is his senior year because he is excited to leave. However, he has still had some good times. In particular, he loved Mr. Galante's carpentry and woodshop classes. One of his favorite parts of school has been spending time with his friends. He is very appreciative of Abby Lamott, who always gives him high fives and encouragement.

Outside of school, Thomas works at Market Basket of Newburyport where he is a front end manager. He has also worked as a carpenter's apprentice doing woodworking. He loves working out and he is super interested in cars. One of his greatest accomplishments is being able to bench 250 pounds. After high school, he plans on going to work in the trades, and ten years down the road he hopes to own a house and a nice car.

Thomas's favorite musical artist is the rock band, Alice in Chains. His favorite movies are the Lord of the Rings trilogy and he loves the book The Hobbit. His favorite game is chess; he has had some success playing in competitions.

Thomas's favorite piece of advice is to go one-hundred percent or do not bother trying at all. If he could tell his eight-year-old self anything, he would say buy Nvidia. He hopes that all the seniors will make lots of money in life.

ABIGAIL LAMOTT

Senior Profile

By Dom Beane

Abigail, or Abby as most know her, would describe herself as hardworking. She has worked at Stillwells' Ice Cream, Nick's Pizza, and Watch Me Grow. Despite all of her working hours, she still finds time to go to the gym and hang out with friends. In fact, one of her greatest accomplishments is being able to bench 135 pounds. At school, Abby plays tennis and loves any classes with Mr. Jackson because he always makes them fun. Her favorite year has been this year!

Abby's hero is her mom, who always gives back time and effort to the community. She is also really appreciative of her friend Jameson Valle, who she has been close with since preschool and has always stuck by her side, helping her through everything and making memories together. Mr. Sydow and the snacks he gives out also definitely do not go unappreciated by Abby.

Outside of school Abby loves to workout, make diamond art, and go shopping—her favorite store is Lululemon. If she could have anything in the world, she would wish for free gas, ice cream, and energy drinks. She also wishes that she could have the superpower of reading minds so that she would never have to wonder what anybody else was thinking about her.

When Abby was younger, she dreamt of being a stylish fashion designer. Now her plans look a little different. After graduating high school, she plans on going to college for nursing because she wants to help others. The best advice she has ever been given is to know that you can't help people who do not want to be helped. Her advice to her younger self would be to focus on yourself and don't worry too much. She hopes that the seniors enjoy themselves during their last year of high school and afterwards.

TAKING THE TITLE

Golf

The boys finish the week 3-1 with the River Rat and a match against Rockport. River Rat was a battle between Newburyport, Triton, Pentucket and Amesbury. Held at Amesbury Country Club the boys finished with 175 points. This gave them second place losing to Newburyport (180), while beating Triton (172) and Pentucket (131). They were then focused to play on Wednesday against Rockport to secure CAL Champs.

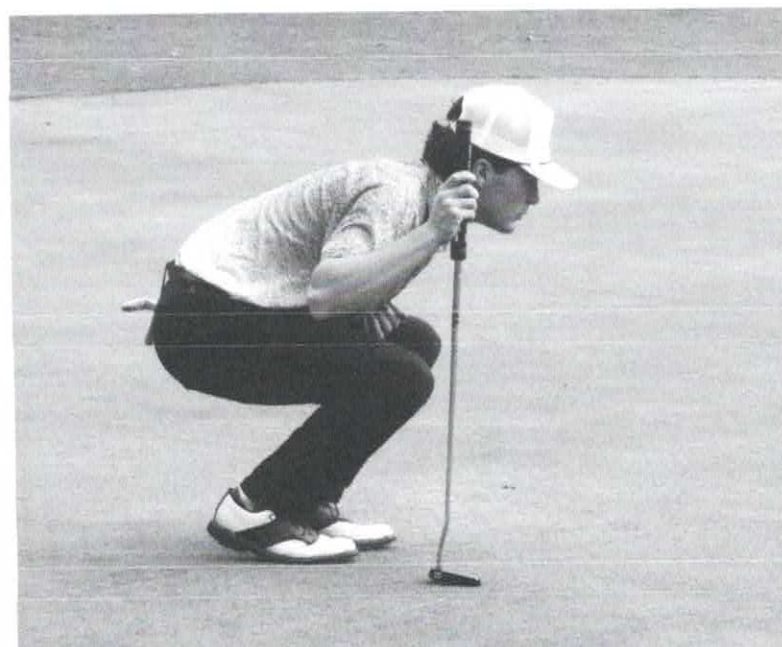

Wednesday was as good as it could go. The final was 175-122, an absolute blowout. The top scorer was Jack Kusler (38) along with Gus Headrick (32). Just a great round from the boys who are now focused on Sectionals with a chance to make it to states.

Another Tie

Boys Soccer

Last Friday the Amesbury Boys Soccer Team took on Ipswich in a very important game. After playing two long games earlier last week the boys came out a little slow. After allowing the first goal, Islam Karimi and Matt Way would get two back before halftime. Then with around 20 minutes left in the second half Ipswich would score a lucky one and the game would eventually end in a tie.

Unified Basketball

Unified Basketball is back and bigger than before. Last year AHS started a unified basketball program which pairs special needs athletes and non-handicapped partners. Many schools around the area have such programs. Amesbury's first practices were Tuesday and Thursday of this week. The first game will be next Wednesday, October 21st at 3:30 pm here at Amesbury. There will also be games on October 27th against MASCO at 3:30 pm and November 3rd at Triton at 4:30. The program is coached by special education teacher Christina Lynch.

Newburyport, Haverhill, and Whittier also have Unified programs.

CHILI COOK OFF

Around Amesbury

By Eliza Froncki

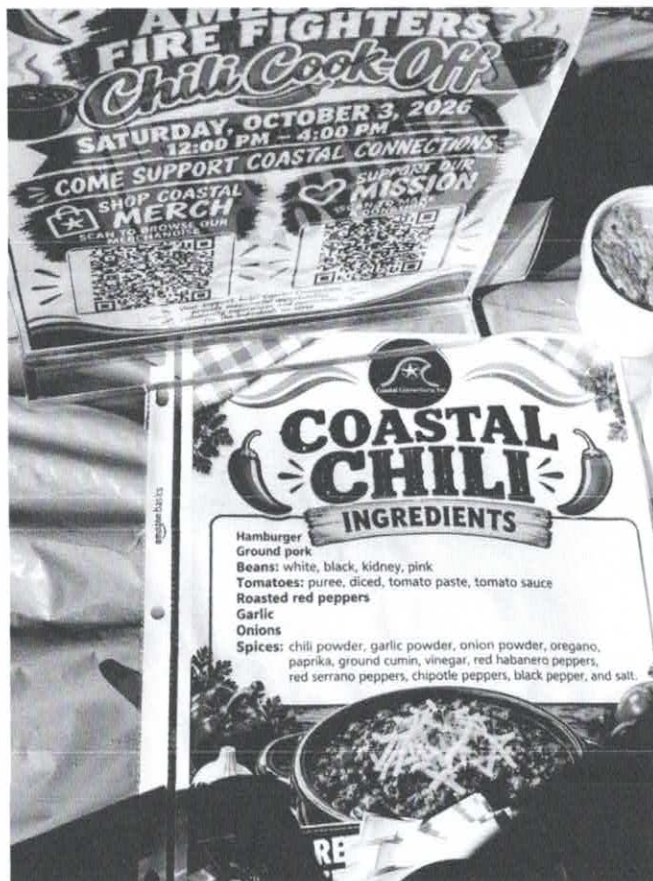

On Saturday the 3rd of October, Amesbury had their annual chili cook-off, which has been done for 22 years. Yes, there was chili from the Amesbury Fire Department. There was also chili from the Salisbury Police Department, Newburyport, Coastal Connections and Portsmouth. They all had a different taste and a way of making their own chili.

Starting with Salisbury's chili they had beef, a tomato sauce, cheese, black beans, and one tortilla chip. We had a few comments, like my friend's little cousin liked the spice, not the peppers. There was a small kick. With the rates on Salisbury, people said 8/10, 7/10, two 8.5/10s and a 10/10. On to the Amesbury Fire Department. Their chili was good but not my favorite. It had pork shoulder, olive oil, onions, garlic, green peppers, smoked paprika, chili powder, salt and pepper, potatoes, and corn bread. With their chili you need to have two pieces of corn bread. We also have some comments on the Amesbury Fire Department that people enjoyed the pork shoulder, not the taste. The rates were 8.5/10, 7.5/10, 5/10, two 8/10, and 11/10. Onto Newburyport: it was okay. I did not write too much because if you follow Amesbury football, we (Amesbury) are rivals with Newburyport and we go against them on Thanksgiving Day every year. This year is the 103rd anniversary of Amesbury playing against Newburyport. Some comments are that Newburyport had a 7.5/10, 6.5/10, two 9/10s and a 10/10.

Finally with my favorite, Coastal Connections. Coastal Connections is a center that helps adults that have learning or physical differences like me. I have autism and I am proud of it. With Coastal Connections their chili was very very good. Their ratings were very high. There were 8.3/10, 8.5/10, 9.3/10, and seven 10/10s. Lastly was the Portsmouth chili. Their chili was interesting but not great like Coastal Connections. No comments or ratings on this chili. The results were: 1. Coastal Connections 2. Salisbury Police Department 3. Newburyport Fire Department and last but not least 4th place Portsmouth. It was fun. Thank you to Landon Mispilkin, his cousin Nora, Brayden Froncki, Logan Barrowclough, Heather Bates, Ivy Olson, Mayor Gove, Senator Foregold and so many other people for your ratings on the chili.

HOROSCOPE

ARIES (March 21 – April 19)

LIFE: The new athletic director asks you a question. You are 5'1". He's about 10 feet tall and you can't even see his face, let alone know what he is asking. You mumble something about squirrels.

SCHOOL/WORK: You hate book reports so you decide to make up a book and write the report on that. The teacher is so fascinated that she says bring in the book because she can't wait to read it.

TAURUS (April 20 – May 20)

LIFE: You will discover that your refrigerator light has been secretly communicating with aliens. Unfortunately, the aliens are only interested in the leftover pizza.

SCHOOL/WORK: Your ride is here and you overslept. You run out of the house hoping that today is pajama day at school.

GEMINI (May 21 – June 20)

LIFE: A mysterious stranger will approach you with an important message. The message is that your shoelace is untied. You are wearing sandals.

SCHOOL/WORK: You send in a "pet" photo to the yearbook. Leary informs you that you AND the cat have to be in the photo, not just a cat. Your cat is not happy when you try to hug her but mom takes the photo. You aren't even a senior.

CANCER (June 21 – July 22)

LIFE: You ask what you think is a brilliant question. The teacher just stares at you and walks away.

SCHOOL/WORK: You ask the teacher if you are supposed to put your name on your report. The teacher starts to cry.

LEO (July 23 – August 22)

LIFE: You pass a person at the Walmart driveway holding a "ran out of gas" sign. You figure it is just another scammer. Five minutes later you run out of gas.

SCHOOL/WORK: Someone asks you why you are paying $6 for a coffee at Starbucks when you can get coffee at Cumbies for $2.29. The real reason is the Starbucks cup looks cool.

VIRGO (August 23 – September 22)

LIFE: Your portrait photographer sends your expensive portrait to Triton. The yearbook advisor uses your school ID pic instead. You make plans to destroy your yearbook.

SCHOOL/WORK: You go to a concert on a Wednesday night. The next day you have a test. Teachers should plan these things better and telepathically know you are going to a concert by someone she has never heard of.

LIBRA (September 23 – October 22)

LIFE: You will spend twenty minutes deciding between two identical cookies. During your deliberations, someone buys them both.

SCHOOL/WORK: You will receive an award in the mail for outstanding achievement in swimming. You don't swim.

SCORPIO (October 23 – November 21)

LIFE: You will uncover a shocking family secret: your dog has been using a fake name for six years.

SCHOOL/WORK: Your facial expression during a particularly boring presentation will become a popular reaction meme. You will achieve internet fame. Your teacher is not amused.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 – December 21)

LIFE: You will attempt to learn Spanish by listening to the cleaning crew. You don't realize they are speaking Portuguese.

SCHOOL/WORK: You will volunteer for something without knowing what it involves. Congratulations! You are now responsible for organizing the annual competitive stapling tournament.

CAPRICORN (December 22 – January 19)

LIFE: A fortune cookie will contain the message, "We have been trying to reach you about your car's extended warranty." The cookie will then explode.

SCHOOL/WORK: You will complete an assignment so far ahead of schedule that nobody believes you actually did it. Then you lose it.

AQUARIUS (January 20 – February 18)

LIFE: You will invent a revolutionary device that allows people to communicate with houseplants. Your first conversation will reveal that your cactus thinks you're annoying.

SCHOOL/WORK: Your suggestion to replace all meetings and classes with competitive karaoke will be rejected. Your teacher is bad at singing.

PISCES (February 19 – March 20)

LIFE: This genius kid in your math class convinces you he is really rich and related to a famous celebrity. Several of his friends confirm this. When you find out this is all made up, you put a stink bomb under his seat.

SCHOOL/WORK: You will accidentally submit a grocery list instead of your assignment. The teacher gives it an A, saying it's the most organized thing you've turned in yet.
