Welcome To AHS!

Freshman Orientation

By Dash Bogart

On August 28th, 2024, Amesbury High School opened its doors to the Class of 2028! Starting at 7:40, the Freshman class entered the school and started their high school careers. First, the freshmen were greeted by Dr. Ricci and were given an introduction to the school. Dr. Ricci explained schedules at AHS and how lunch works for the students. The freshmen seemed quiet, but excited to start their year. Dr. Ricci also talked about ground rules at Amesbury and encouraged the new students to participate in activities and ask for help. Dr. Ricci also touched on respecting the school and how important that is. This meeting ended and concluded the beginning of Freshman Orientation.

The freshmen gather in the gym.

Following the meeting, the freshmen were split into their WIN groups and shown to their WIN classes by members of Amesbury Student Council. The student council leaders then lead the freshmen around the school. They were shown every class and guided around on very informative tours. After these tours ended all of the freshmen were brought to the gym. There, they picked up the new Class of 2028 T-shirts and got the opportunity to have some questions answered. The student council group answered questions ranging from the fan section to what to do if you are struggling in class. After this Dash Bogart and Jared Black led the freshmen in the Oklahoma Clap. They were somewhat slow to learn it, but got the hang of it with time. After the Oklahoma Clap the freshmen learned Come on Red and White, which concluded freshman orientation. The freshmen then had their class meeting, without advisors, where they were encouraged to participate in STUCO, SAC, and class office.

It's Time to Celebrate!

Senior Celebration

By Anna Belisle

The Monday before the first day of school the Class of 2025 held the annual senior celebration in the high school parking lot. Students gathered at the patio next to the cafe where their brand new senior gear was laid out alphabetically for them on benches thoughtfully provided by SAC. Students were offered a choice of chicken, pork, or steak tacos along with toppings and chips catered from Casa Maria. After filling their stomachs with great food and laughs, students scattered out to the parking lot to decorate their cars. Seniors filled their car windows with colorful writing like "Seniors 2025", "Senior Szn", as well as "4 years later". Seniors also went around to sign their friends' cars and pose for the obligatory photos with their freshly decorated car and their new senior shirts. Thanks to class advisors Mrs. Johnston, Mr. Opolski and all of the class office students were able to enjoy a fun night. The following Monday seniors also enjoyed their sunrise on the first day of school up at the track, where they enjoyed donuts generously donated by Cider Hill.

AUDITIONS!!

for the AHS Rhythmics

Wed Sept 11th , 2024 at 2:40 in the Auditorium

Do you like to sing??

Would you like to sing with an awesome group of AHS students?

We are an a cappella singing group that sings Doo Wop, R&B, Pop, Country, and many other styles of music!

We are dedicated and talented, and we have lots of fun!

We rehearse on Mondays after school.

*Come to the Chorus Room (room 102) to:

1. Sign up for auditions. You can also sign up by email: susanne.meyer@amesburyma.org
2. Pick up the audition piece and a sightreading packet for practice
3. Ask any questions you may have

At auditions, singers will be asked to :

1. Sing 16 bars of a song of your choice
2. Sing your part in “Irish Blessing” with other singers
3. Sightread a short section of music

All AHS students are welcome to audition!

Questions? See Ms. Meyer in Room 102

Or email susanne.meyer@amesburyma.org

SENIOR SUNRISE

An impressive thirty-six seniors showed up for the annual senior sunrise on the first day of school, even though they didn't need to be in school until 9:30am. According to class advisor Mr. Opolski, the weather didn't allow for much of a view, but the kids were excited to be seniors. Those who showed up did get cider donuts.

Hand Out the Books!!

Underclassmen Awards

Last June, after our final issue of the year, underclassman awards were presented.

First were the junior book Awards, which were given in a small ceremony in the library courtyard attended by the recipients and their families. Traditionally various colleges send a book to every high school, to be presented to a top-ranking junior. Guidance decides who gets which book. Sometimes the book comes with a scholarship to that particular college.

This year's book winners were Cade Waterman (Bowdoin College), Olivia Woodsom (Brandeis University), Alice Moulton (Brown University), Julia Parsons (Dartmouth), Annah Belisle (Endicott College), Samantha Bender (Harvard Book Award), Soleil Bennett (Rochester Institute of Technology Art and Design), Tyler McPherson (Saint Anselm), Kalan Noseworthy and Alexandra Donnell (Saint Michael's College), Dashiell Bogart (Suffolk University), Kylie Desmond (The University of New Hampshire), Saideep Vaduka Jagan (University of Rochester - Xerox Award for Innovation and Information Technology), and Adelyn Upson (Yale Book Award).

Later in the morning, the whole student body went to the auditorium for the rest of the awards. These included honor roll pins, subject awards, and teacher choice awards. The English awards went to Jamie Redfern and Olivia Franjul-Soto (grade 9). Estella Jones and Noah Blouin (grade 10), and Logan Bowser and Veronika Ruzkova (grade 11).

Samantha Bender recieves the Harvard book award!

The math awards went to Celia Tavares and Dominic Beane (grade 9), Matthew Gaudet and Max Kerstein (grade 10), and Grace Pisarczyk and Samantha Bender (grade 11).

The science awards went to Lauren Talbot and Lincoln Kime (grade 9), Max McCue and Connor Calderwood (grade 10), and Evelyn Pifalo and Grace Pisarczyk (grade 11). Technology awards were given to Matthew David and Lincoln Kime (grade 9), Linken Berry and Desmond Brisson (grade 10), and Anya Zagler and Piper Sanford (grade 11).

Engineering awards were presented to Michael Laughrun and Connor Forisso (grade 9), Ryan Baker and Michael Morlino (grade 10), and Julian Butzen and Samantha Bender (grade 11).

Social studies awards went to Coal Gibson and Celia Tavares (grade 9), Connor Calderwood and Linken Berry (grade 10), and Haley Manbodh and Jared Black (grade 11).

The visual media and performing arts awards were given to Natalia Makarewicz and Norah Primack (grade 9), Genevieve Roy and Brianna Grove (grade 10), and Ellianna Marden and Soleil Bennett (grade 11).

Wellness awards went to Christian Fazio and Alexis Desmond (grade 9), Stacy Peck and Maeve Snyder (grade 10), and John Mancini and Julia Parsons (grade 11).

Spanish awards went to Olivia Franjul-Soto and Everett Himmel (grade 9), Stella Giangregorio and Ava Flynn (grade 10), and Olivia Woodsom and Alexis LeBlanc (grade 11); French awards went to Dominic Beane and Charlie Himmel (grade 9), Erica Marshall and Olivia Thorpe (grade 10), and Aurora Montello and Grace Pisarczyk (grade 11).

The teachers' choice awards were then presented by the teachers giving them. Mrs. Bailin gave her award to Aurora Montello, Mr.

Girls' Soccer

by Annah Belisle

The girls' Redhawks Varsity Soccer team started out their season on Tuesday against the Ipswich Tigers at Cashman. The girls were suited in their fresh new jerseys and showed up for kickoff at 4pm. They unfortunately took a tough loss of 3-0 making their official record 0-1, but the girls did not let up for the majority of the game. The Ipswich Tigers scored all three goals within a 10 minute period mid first half of the game, but the Redhawks did not let up a single goal in the second half. They played an aggressive and physical game with handfuls of fouls called against Ipswich. Amesbury even managed to gain a Penalty kick off of a foul in the Tigers box. The girls faced Manchester Essex at their home turf yesterday.

A DECENT START

Boys' Soccer

The boys' soccer team opened their season at Ipswich on Tuesday. Although it ended up a 3-2 loss, the team performed much better than last year's opening game. Ipswich scored twice in the first half and once in the second. They were ahead 2-0 near the end of the first half when Kaue De Almedia scored the left side of the Tiger's net. In the second half Noah Blouin scored another goal for Amesbury, but the Tigers scored again soon after.

Patrick Foley

Teacher Profile

By Ava Flynn

Welcome Mr. Foley to the AHS faculty! Many of you may already know him from his last job at the middle school. For the past eight years he has worked at AMS as a social studies teacher for 6th grade Blue Team. He was asked to join the AHS team and gladly accepted the position. He himself went to Amesbury High School and graduated in 2010. Mr. Foley states that "It feels like a second home!"After high school, Foley went on to go to the University of Alabama, Salem State University, and Gordon college. He earned a masters degree in both education and history. Mr. Foley has a large family that is spread across the globe. Most of them living in the United Kingdom! For hobbies, Mr. Foley likes to cook and bake, his most recent venture being pizza dough. The most unusual thing about him is that he is the world's worst whistler. One of Mr. Foley's greatest achievements was pursuing a career that he enjoys doing every day. At home you can find Mr. Foley cozied up watching "Goodwill Hunting," "Chef's Table," or anything with Leonardo DiCaprio in it. His all time favorite book is the "Great Gatsby". His favorite band performer is the incredibly well known Mr. Rinaldi who often performs at AMS idol. If he could eat one dish for the rest of his life, Mr. Foley would have his mother's homemade Portuguese kale soup. To wash the food down he would most likely be grabbing a Yorkshire tea or cup of coffee. Mr. Foley's favorite possession is his great grandmother's rosary beads. On vacation you could find him visiting family in England. During winter break you can find Mr. Foley enjoying his favorite day of the year, Christmas Eve. While scrolling the web, often times, Mr. Foley finds himself on YouTube. If there was a movie made about his life he would want his part played by Sean Connery because teaching with that voice would be hilarious. He says that his heros are both of his parents because of their work ethic and kindness. If Mr. Foley could meet anyone alive or dead, he would want to meet Gordon Ramsey because it would make his mother's day! If Mr. Foley could give one piece of advice, it would be that the little things in life are important. If he could change one thing in his life, Mr. Foley would have invested in Apple Stock. While in class, he can often be heard saying "Where'd I put my coffee cup?".

Jackie Joy

Teacher Profile

By Sophia Santa Fe

This year we have the honor of welcoming Mrs. Joy as the newest member of AHS's launguage faculty! She made her way to Amesbury after teaching in Methuen Highschool and learning of our wonderful community! While Mrs. Joy is a New England local (from Rhode Island!), she has studied in both Mexico and Spain while in college. Speaking of which, Mrs. Joy studied at two different universities: Salve Regina University and Salem State University. When Mrs. Joy isn't gracing us with her presence at school, she enjoys excercising, reading, traveling, exploring the outdoors, and various crafting. On a cozy day in, you might catch Mrs. Joy watching Parks and Rec and Mean Girls, reading The Alchemist, or watching Bluey with her kids! A fun fact about Mrs. Joy is she has a fraternal twin sister that lives in Virgina, and she also has an older brother who still lives in their home state! Other members of Mrs. Joy's family include her husband of nine years, Michael, her two children, Laura and Mikey, who are five and six years old, and her dog Mila. Mrs. Joy's favorite day in the whole year is Halloween, so you should make sure to give her one of her favorite candy (Reese's PB Cups!) when it comes around. Mrs. Joy's hero and inspriation is her mother. She admires her mom's ability to work extermely hard with a smile on her face, she retired this summer after fourty-four years working in education. I'm very pleased to hear that Mrs. Joy has a great impression of AHS so far, she is especially impressed with our school spirit and overall bright and welcoming community. An ideal vacation for Mrs. Joy would be visiting her favorite spot, Newport, RI, and kicking back with her favorite drink, an iced coffee. The best advice that Mrs. Joy has ever been given takes form in a quote: "Tell me who your friends are, and I will tell you who you are." - Unknown

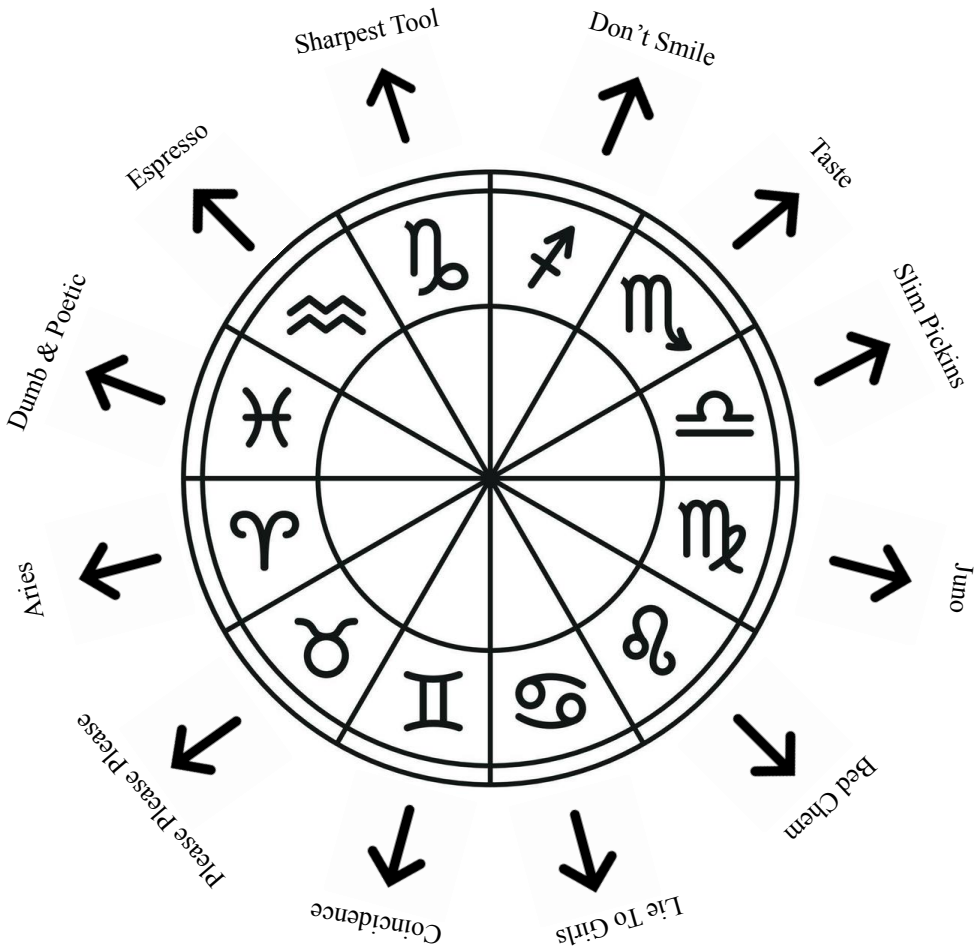

Welcome to AHS, and we hope you love our school just as much as we do!

TORI'S TUNES

By Tori Woodsom

Sabrina Carpenter's sixth studio album was released last month. The record contains twelve tracks and three singles. The singles "Espresso" "Please Please Please" and "Taste" have been topping the charts for weeks, while songs like "Juno" and "Slim Pickins" have been receiving attention on social media platforms. It was last week's number one album and is expected to remain there for several weeks to come. Because there are twelve songs and twelve zodiacs, each sign can be assigned a song.

Back to school - The School Supplies Dilemma

Dear Petunia,

Thank you for your encouraging words in your last letter. I found the cake recipe delicious. As you know it's back to school season and my little girl is starting school this year. School can be overwhelming and her teacher didn't give us much guidance in what she'll need. So naturally as you are an expert in all things, what are some supplies you recommend for new students. I hope you're able to answer my question, as all I want is success for my little girl.
Sincerely,

Melissa Washerffet

Dear Mrs.Washerffet,

First, allow me to introduce myself, I'm Penelope Jones, Petunia's sister. She's a tad preoccupied, so she allowed me to write this letter as I myself am an expert in school supplies! First, your daughter will need 20 bottles of pine sap for all her art projects. Next, she'll need the hoof of an ox and the ash from volcanic eruptions mixed with pig spit put into a twig for her writing utensil. If you want a more fashionable option, I recommend grass mixed with horse hoof or a worm with wild berries and volcanic ash put into a feather quill for easier writing.

Your daughter's teacher may reccommend she has something to write on. I reccommend the wood from the softest whitest tree in the forest. It will make writing the easiest thing ever! Your daughter may want some color in her life— dye mixed with beetle juice simply makes the best markers that your daughter will enjoy all year! Now as a child just starting school, she's bound to fall ill. Petunia and I recomend potato slices and vaseline in a pair of socks: it is the magical cure!

Your daughter will also need some fashionable outfits. I always recommend alpaca fur and cow skin. I've seen it many times in this season's fashion magazines. Your daughter will also need a bag to carry around her new supplies. I highly recommend the fresh woven bag, made with synthetic grass for a lasting bag that will make her the most popular girl in her grade. Well Mrs. Washerffet, I may not be Petunia, but I hope I was able to help in your dilemma of school supplies and I hope your daughter has a great school year!
Sincerely,

Your friend's sister, Penelope Jones
